

Is anyone there?

BIG QUESTION

Who made everything?

For most of history, many great thinkers said the universe had always been here. But the Bible's very first sentence says it had a beginning.

In 1929, Edwin Hubble found that the galaxies are rushing away from us. The universe is getting bigger! Run it backward, and everything comes together at a beginning.

In 1964, two scientists picked up a faint hiss from every direction in the sky. It was the afterglow of the universe's hot beginning.

The universe also runs on a few numbers, like how hard gravity pulls. Nudge almost any of them a little, and there would be no stars and no people.

And every living cell carries DNA, a code written with four letters. Nobody has ever shown chemistry writing a code like that on its own. It all points to a Maker.
